

Bistro Mirage is a sort of the culmination of several years' worth of effort on the part of a guy who wrote some songs, did some traveling with a brilliant photographer with whom he happened also to be deeply in love, and a with a fellow musician/writer/ethnographer whose rope-showing made the trip(s) unforgettable and enjoyable beyond imagining. Sort of.